

E-Motivating Students with ILIAS

Prof. Dr. Siegfried Zseby
Berlin School of Economics
(Fachhochschule für Wirtschaft Berlin)

E-Motivating Students with ILIAS

1. Introducing ILIAS
2. Getting familiar with ILIAS
3. The learning process
4. Technical supplements
5. Summary

1. Introducing ILIAS

- only five people involved
- installation
- in-house training
- start
- presentation (FU + TU Berlin)

2. Getting familiar with ILIAS

(an example for an interesting learning process)

- learners, authors, admins
- groups, courses
- terminology ("administrator")
- database design
- authoring with the ILIAS editor

3. The learning process (live)

- learning by teaching
- authoring, presenting, publishing
- e-motivation
- using forums
- working material

4. Technical supplements (live)

➤ HTML Import

➤ E-Chalk

Mathematics of Finance

Extra lesson (multilingual)

➤ PreSeArch

Preparation of Searching Archives

ILIAS

(ILIAS)

Summary

Summary (1)

- ILIAS Open Source is a good choice for us (comp. WebCT, Blackboard)
- For the success of e-learning you need a good LMS as technical basis, learner-oriented content and, last but not least, e-motivating support.
- Strukture and administration of the FHW provide good preconditions for using ILIAS (comp. FU)

Summary (2)

- ILIAS Open Source is a "Learning Management System"
- LMS, content, and tutoring have to be transformed into "education"
- Our task: e-motivation
- Developer's task: support by improving ILIAS

Summary (3)

Now, finally, before it hurts,
my summary in simple words:
Get ready to improve your course by using

.

Access to ILIAS

www.fhw-berlin.de/ilias/